- Limited availability of organic Goji Berries

Important information on harvesting organic Goji Berries

Dear customers,

We would like to inform you about the current situation regarding the 2024 organic Goji Berry harvest. Unfortunately, uncharacteristically heavy rainfall last year led to a considerable impairment of the harvest. The quantity of organic Goji Berries available will probably only be around a third of the harvest quantity of previous years.

Some of our suppliers in the country of origin have already sold all their EU organic quality and now have to wait until the new harvest to be able to offer goods again. The new harvest of Goji Berries begins in June, but these are mainly conventional farms in the Ningxia and Gansu regions. The harvest of organic Goji Berries does not start until August, originating in Qinhai.

Due to the current lead times, we do not expect the new organic harvest to arrive until November at the earliest.

We therefore strongly recommend that you plan your annual requirements now and secure quantities in good time to avoid shortages.

In our range you will find:
